A Wave of Innovation

NEW THERAPIES, AGING POPULATIONS BODE WELL FOR HEALTH CARE INVESTORS

The implementation of the Affordable Care Act (ACA) has brought renewed attention to the health care sector. In this Q&A, Janus Global Life Sciences Fund Portfolio Manager Andy Acker discusses the sector's prospects for investors.

In your view, what are the dominant trends in the health care industry?

AA We are seeing a wave of innovation in the biotechnology sector. Thirty-nine new drugs were approved by the FDA in 2012—the most in 16 years. One major reason for this is a dramatic reduction in the cost of genetic analysis. DNA sequencing is the evaluation of the gene's code, or genome, which is the book of life for all organisms. The first genome was sequenced in 2003. It took 13 years to complete and cost $3 billion. Today a human genome can be sequenced in just a few days for a few thousand dollars. Improved genetic analysis allows for a better understanding of the underlying basis of disease, enabling faster development of more-targeted therapies.

In fact, six of the seven largest biotech companies are in the early stages of major new product launches. As biotech products generally have long patent lives (10+ years), these products could drive ample, long profitability for the industry for many years.

Another trend is a greater cost consciousness permeating the system. The ACA has led to reimbursement cuts, implying that everyone will have to make do with less. As a result, there's a higher bar for getting new therapies reimbursed. Insurers and other payers in the U.S. and elsewhere are no longer paying for "me-too" treatments, such as new formulations of existing therapies. New companies are more focused on addressing unmet medical needs, and that is improving the productivity of their R&D.

We have two key investment themes for the Fund. The first is investing in companies that are addressing high unmet needs. We believe these should do well even in a difficult reimbursement environment. The second is identifying companies that make the health care system more efficient and hence lower costs. We find both of these themes will work with the new environment under the ACA.

What does the aging of the Baby Boomers mean for investors in the life sciences sector?

AA Health care spending has grown faster than the economy for the last 50 years in the U.S. and all developed

Our Father, which art in heaven,
hallowed be thy name;
thy kingdom come,
thy will be done,
on earth as it is in heaven
Give us this day our daily bread
And forgive us our trespasses,
as we forgive them that trespass against us
And lead us not into temptation,
but deliver us from evil
[For thine is the kingdom,
the power, and the glory,
for ever and ever]

Send me interesting faxes to my fax machine

Write right on pages that folks have faxed us recently, click any thumbnail to see the large version and rate it for interestingness

You can fax something interesting to 1 888 472 1655 (your boss will love it) or 1 303-209-1300 (long distance to Australia, if desired) and it should appear here within a couple of minutes. (It is a bit free-form, after all.) You can fax us from the USA, Canada or Japan.

Fax a multi-page document with no cover sheet. If you fax more than one page, only the last page will appear here. We only display the top few pixels of the page where your company name and fax number live, at least by default. In fact, we make no promises that this will actually work.

Privacy Policy: We make spam and junk faxes, and will absolutely not resell you any unsolicited e-mail or faxes. We won't share your information with companies or anyone else.

Filler from Radio Shack in my phone line. Try it either forward or reverse. I can finish a call with my DirecTV Tivo (series 2) about 30% of the time, I know that sux but it is enough to keep the nag comms from throwing up. Since you have a Series 1 Tivo, you can use the "Slowdown codes" like #134 (34k) #819 (19k) and so forth. Also, I would look into getting a TurboNet card. I have read that it has worked well for alot of people. Hope that helps.

Verizon didn't want to spend a little money on me so now I don't spend my money on them.

I have the Series 2 TCD240004A. Since switching to Vonage, I've discovered that ebay sticks (the ones I purchased was DOA), and that my box doesn't want to dial out over Vonage's fax line. I've tried every prefix that I've come across, but the phone hangs up saying, that it's getting a busy signal.
Serious kudos to anyone who can provide some direction

Avis pour les utilisateurs de Windows 7 et Mac OS X 10.6 Snow Leopard

Votre produit Epson et ses logiciels sont compatibles avec Windows® 7 et Mac OS® X 10.6 Snow Leopard. Bien que les guides fournis aient été rédigés avec des instructions pour Windows Vista® et Mac OS X 10.5 Leopard, votre produit Epson fonctionne de façon similaire lorsqu'il est utilisé avec votre nouveau système d'exploitation. Suivez les directives ci-dessous lorsque vous faites la lecture des guides.

Pour un système d'exploitation...	voyez les instructions pour
Windows 7	Windows Vista
Mac OS X 10.6 Snow Leopard	Mac OS X 10.5 Leopard

Changements pour Windows 7

Voici quelques moyens pour tirer pleinement profit de votre produit Epson sous Windows 7.

- Device Stage™
  Cliquez sur (e) et sous Périphériques et imprimantes et ensuite double-cliquez sur votre produit Epson pour obtenir des liens rapides vers les paramètres du produit, de la documentation en ligne, du soutien pour le produit et encore plus. Il est possible que cette fonction ne soit pas disponible pour votre produit.

- Visionneuse de photos Windows

- Groupe résidentiel
  Si vous créez un nouveau Groupe résidentiel et installez votre produit Epson sur un ordinateur personnel, vous pouvez facilement le partager avec un autre ordinateur personnel utilisant Windows 7 dans le même Groupe résidentiel. Le pilote est chargé automatiquement vous n'avez donc pas à l'installer séparément sur chaque ordinateur.

Remarque
Pour obtenir plus d'information, visitez le site de soutien d'Epson à www.epson.ca/windows7 et suivez le lien vers la FAQ.

Changements pour Mac OS X 10.6

- Veuillez noter que vous n'avez plus besoin d'Epson Scan pour numériser avec Snow Leopard. Vous pouvez accéder à toutes les fonctions disponibles dans Epson Scan en utilisant Transférer d'images. Cette application est intégrée dans Snow Leopard et elle est la solution de numérisation recommandée par Apple®.

- Si votre produit peut être connecté à un réseau (câblé ou sans fil), veuillez noter que vous ne pouvez pas numériser à partir du panneau de commande de l'imprimante ou accéder à une carte mémoire sur le réseau tel que décrit dans le Guide de l'utilisateur en ligne.

Remarque
Pour obtenir plus d'information, visitez le site de soutien d'Epson à www.epson.ca/snowleopard et suivez le lien vers la FAQ.

Madame,

Nous vous informons qu'une autorisation de paiement pour la produit précité est accordée du 2015-02-01 au 2016-01-31. En principe elle demeurera valide durant cette période si vous remplissez toujours les critères d'admissibilité et d'inscription au régime public d'assurance médicaments et au régime d'assurance maladie. De plus, aucun règlement ne doit modifier entre temps les conditions de paiement en vigueur lors de l'autorisation.

Au cours de la période d'autorisation, si vous avez moins de 65 ans et avez accès à un régime privé d'assurance collective, vous avez l'obligation d'y adhérer. Vous devrez alors nous en aviser, car la présente autorisation prendra fin à la date de votre admissibilité à ce régime privé.

Vous devez faire remplir votre ordonnance auprès d'un pharmacien ou d'une pharmacienne qui travaille soit au Québec soit dans une pharmacie située dans une région limitrophe du Québec et avec laquelle la Régie a conclu une entente particulière. Vous devez remettre la présente lettre à cette personne car certains renseignements qu'elle contient ont été rédigés à son intention. Vous pourrez ensuite obtenir votre médicament en payant le coût habituel exigé (franchise et coassurance), comme vous le feriez pour un autre médicament couvert par le régime public, et entreprendre les démarches pour obtenir un remboursement, le cas échéant.

Veuillez agréer l'expression de nos meilleurs sentiments.

Hotmail

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

Hotmail (officially Microsoft Hotmail, previously Windows Live Hotmail and MSN Hotmail) was a free web-based email service operated by Microsoft as part of Windows Live, which was replaced by the newer Outlook.com service by Microsoft. Hotmail was one of the first web-based email services.[3] It was founded by Sabeer Bhatia and Jack Smith as hotmail.com in July 1996 as "HoTMaiL".[4] It was acquired by Microsoft in 1997 for an estimated $400 million, and shortly after, it was rebranded as "MSN Hotmail". The current version was released in 2011.[5]

Hotmail features unlimited storage, Ajax, and integration with Microsoft's instant messaging (Windows Live Messenger), calendar (Hotmail Calendar), file hosting service (SkyDrive), and contacts platform.[6] As of 2012, Hotmail was the world's second largest web based email service after Gmail with 360 million users.[7][8] It is available in 36 different languages.[9]

Hotmail was developed by Sabeer Bhatia and Jack Smith. When Hotmail Corporation was an independent company, it was headquartered in Sunnyvale.[10][11]

On 18 February 2013, Outlook.com (a newer webmail service by Microsoft)[12] deprecated Hotmail.[13] Existing Hotmail customers are scheduled to be upgraded to Outlook.com during 2013.[13]

I met a man who wasn't there
He wasn't there again today
Oh how I wish he'd go away

When I came home last night at three
The man was waiting there for me
But when I looked around the hall
I couldn't see him there at all!
Go away, go away, don't you come back any more!
Go away, go away, and please don't slam the door

Last night I saw upon the stair
A little man who wasn't there
He wasn't there again today
Oh how I wish he'd go away

How to Get Rid of Clogged Pores on the Face

By an eHow Contributor

Clogged pores on the face can make your skin look uneven dirty and dull While you can t alter the size of your pores, you can unclog them making them appear smaller A regular skincare regime is imperative to keep pores clean and free from debris, excess oil and bacteria Various treatments will help you pull gunk out of your pores

Things You ll Need

- Salicylic acid cleanser
- Toner
- Facial scrub
- Mask
- Water-based makeup
- Pore treatment strips

1 Cleanse your skin twice daily You must remove excess oil makeup, sweat and dirt from your skin If you don't, they will sink into your pores and stay there Choose a cleanser that contains salicylic acid as t encourages skin cell turnover helping to clear clogged pores

2 Place toner on a cotton ball and apply it to your skin Since toner helps balance your sk n's oil levels, it ll prevent excess oil from clogging your pores For a natural approach you can use tea tree oil as a toner

3 Exfoliate your skin using a facial scrub Exfoliation removes dead skin cells from the surface of the skin If you don t remove these cells they can clog your pores. For best results, exfoliate 2 to 3 times weekly

4 Use a deep-cleaning mask on your skin weekly Masks provide your pores with an intense cleaning process pulling impurities and grime from deep within them to the

1. Brown the ground beef in a skillet over medium heat, drain off the fat
2. Using a fork, crumble the cooked beef into pea-size pieces.
3. In a large pot, combine the beef plus all the remaining ingredients and bring to a simmer over low heat. Cook, stirring every 15 minutes, for 2 to 3 hours

OPTIONAL

For spicier chili, add 1/2 teaspoon more black pepper. For much spicier chili, add ½ teaspoon black pepper and a tablespoon of cayenne pepper. And for a real stomach stinger, add 5 or 6 sliced jalapeno peppers to the pot. Leftovers can be frozen for several months

Test your fax machine

To test the capability of your fax machine, follow the sequence below.

NOTE: Be sure that your phone product is not Caller ID blocked by your telephone company prior to dialing to verify and receive a fax. Pressing *82 before dialing the toll free number will override the Caller ID blocking feature in most areas. Some pulse telephony services will prevent your fax receiving a fax. Pressing voice mail, call blocking, or anti-privacy features.

NOTE: However troubleshooting a fax check. It is good practice to set the Automatic Reports option to Every Error before attempting a test fax. This way, even if the with fax fails, an error code will be generated that will guide you in future troubleshooting. This option is available in different places on different products, consult the product Users Guide for specific steps.

1. Scan a one page blank and white test fax to 1-866-lgfaxtest 11-866-473-2983
2. When your fax is received by the HP Test Fax Server, you will receive a return fax of your original fax indicating that we received your fax. This verifies that you can both send and receive a fax with your fax machine.

If you do not receive a return fax within 5-7 minutes, there may be a problem with the status of your fax machine. Contact the user manual that came with the product for proper setup and configuration.

NOTE: The most common cause of failure is that the fax machine has the Fax Header on the outside does not match the number of the phone line connected to the fax. Also, ensure that the fax header matches the full 10-digit destination number of the fax including including the area code.

For more information or assistance, see sections #1 in the top of this page.

III "unnamed automobile" means an automobile with respect to which neither the owner nor driver thereof has applicable and collectible bodily injury liability and property damage liability insurance for its ownership use or operation, but does not include an automobile owned by or registered or the name of the insured or his or her spouse.

2 The definitions in section 1 apply as of the time of the happening of an accident for which indemnity is provided under this coverage form.

Insuring Agreement

3 In consideration of a premium as stated in the Certificate of Automobile Insurance to which this change form is attached, the insurer shall indemnify an eligible claimant for the amount that he or she is legally entitled to recover from an inadequately insured motorist as compensatory damages in respect of bodily injury to or death of an insured person arising directly or indirectly from the use or operation of an automobile.

Limit of Coverage Under this Change Form

4 The insurer's maximum liability under this change form, regardless of the number of eligible claimants or insured persons injured or killed or the number of automobiles insured under the Policy is the amount by which the limit of family protection coverage exceeds the total of all limits of motor vehicle liability insurance, or bonds, or cash deposits, or other financial guarantees as required by law in lieu of such insurance, of the inadequately insured motorists and of any person jointly liable with that motorist.

5. Where this change form applies as excess, the insurer's maximum liability under this change form is the amount calculated under section 4 of this change form, less the amounts available to eligible claimants under any first loss insurance referred to in Section 18 of this change form.

Amount Payable Per Eligible Claimant

6. The amount payable to an eligible claimant under this change form shall be calculated by determining the amount of damages the eligible claimant is legally entitled to recover from the inadequately insured motorist, and deducting from that amount the aggregate of the amounts referred to in Section 7 of this change form, but in no event shall the insurer be obliged to pay an amount in excess of the limit of coverage as determined under Sections 4 and 5 of this change form.

7 The amount payable under this change form to an eligible claimant in excess to an amount received by the eligible claimant from any source, other than money payable on death under a policy of insurance, and in excess to amounts that were available to the eligible claimant from

a) the insurers of the inadequately insured motorist, and from bonds, cash deposits or other financial guarantees given on behalf of the inadequately insured motorist;

b) the insurers of a person jointly liable with the inadequately insured motorist for the damages sustained by an insured person

c) the Société de l'assurance automobile du Québec

If you are entitled to paid sick leave according to New York City then you will be paid and we will take care of it immediately that being said I would like some cooperation from you and continue your duties. If you find I have not or will not process your request then you have every right to protect yourself and certainly not continue to work until [illegible] Schematic representation of the mouse Hoxc locus and the transgenic constructs used to test the enhancer activity of the conserved sequences. (A) The Hoxc locus. Open boxes represent Hoxc genes, and the direction of transcription is indicated by the arrowheads. Only the 3′ part of the Hoxc9 gene and the 5′ part of the Hoxc8 gene are shown. Vertical lines indicate the positions of the *Bam*HI (B) and *Hin*dIII (H) restriction sites. The conserved sequences are represented by ovals. (B) Structure of the transgenic constructs. The conserved sequences are represented by ovals. The Hoxc8 promoter is represented by a box. The lacZ reporter gene is represented by a box. The SV40 polyadenylation signal is represented by a box labeled pA. (C) Summary of the transgenic results. The species from which the conserved sequences were derived are indicated. The number of transgenic embryos analyzed is indicated. Expression in the neural tube (NT) and mesoderm (MES) is indicated by + or -.

[illegible] transgenic embryos. In contrast, when the construct containing the fin whale enhancer was tested in transgenic mice, expression was detected in the neural tube but not in the mesoderm (Fig. 4 B and C). This pattern is identical to that observed with the mouse enhancer (Fig. 4 D and E). Thus, the fin whale enhancer has retained the ability to activate gene expression in the neural tube but has lost the ability to activate gene expression in the mesoderm. These findings indicate that the changes in sequence between the mouse and fin whale enhancers have resulted in a change in the enhancer's activity. Because the fin whale enhancer is functional in transgenic embryos, we initially considered the possibility that the fin whale enhancer was functionally equivalent to the mouse enhancer but that it had undergone a change in its tissue specificity during the evolution of the fin whale. To test this hypothesis, we tested the fin whale enhancer in human embryonal carcinoma cells (EC cells). Like the mouse enhancer, the fin whale enhancer was active in the mesoderm-derived EC cell line P19 but not in the endoderm-derived EC cell line END-2 (data not shown). Therefore, the fin whale enhancer has not undergone a change in its tissue specificity. Instead, the fin whale enhancer has lost the ability to activate gene expression in the mesoderm of the developing embryo.

DISCUSSION

[illegible] Here, we show that a functional enhancer can undergo a change in its activity without changing the sequence of the transcription factor binding sites. Instead, the fin whale enhancer has undergone changes in the sequence of the nonconserved DNA that separates the binding sites. These changes have altered the ability of the enhancer to activate gene expression in the mesoderm but have not affected the ability of the enhancer to activate gene expression in the neural tube. These findings indicate that the sequence of the nonconserved DNA that separates the binding sites is critical for the proper function of this enhancer. Although the nonconserved DNA is not required for the enhancer to activate gene expression in the neural tube, it is required for the enhancer to activate gene expression in the mesoderm. Thus, the nonconserved DNA must contain sequences that are required for the enhancer to activate gene expression in the mesoderm but not in the neural tube. Although the nonconserved DNA is not required for the enhancer to activate gene expression in the neural tube, it is required for the enhancer to activate gene expression in the mesoderm. Thus, the nonconserved DNA must contain sequences that are required for the enhancer to activate gene expression in the mesoderm but not in the neural tube.

[illegible] Although the nonconserved DNA is not required for the enhancer to activate gene expression in the neural tube, it is required for the enhancer to activate gene expression in the mesoderm. Thus, the nonconserved DNA must contain sequences that are required for the enhancer to activate gene expression in the mesoderm but not in the neural tube.

RE: FW: FW: Renewal-Request - 3N Holding Corp. - Questions regarding 2014 Balance Sheet and Operating Statement Performance

Gerard Cardinale <Gerard.Cardinale@carverbank.com> Thu, Oct 9, 2014 at 3:57 PM
To: Jose G Hernandez <ceboldeng@gmail.com>

Mr. Hernandez,

I am presently writing up the renewal memo on 3N Holding Corp and upon my review of the Balance Sheet I noticed two loans listed in the liability section for $28,500 loan from Andrew Scheer as well as a loan in the amount of $200,000 from George Barr s that are not reflected in 2013 balance sheet. Would you please let me know the purpose behind these loans and what the funds were used for?

Also, on the Operating Statement there is an expense for $45,458 listed as a 2ND Mortgage, which was not reflected in 2013. Could you please explain the reason for this expense?

Please let me know as soon as possible, because when I present this renewal request to the Bank's Management Loan Committee they will ask me for an explanation regarding the aforementioned items

Best Regards

Biology 11 Final Exam Review

Questions 1 - 7

a. At the beginning of the voyage Darwin read a geology book written by Lyell (Principles of Geology). This book spurred his interest in the study of landforms. He came to agree with Lyell that over millions of years earthquakes and other geologic processes could change the geology of the land. Because the land changed, new habitats would form and the animals would have to adapt to these changes.
b. Malthus stated that a human population growing unchecked would double every 25 years. Resources such as food, air and water cannot increase at the same rate. The humans were involved in an intense competition for resources. This idea helped Darwin uncover the mechanism he needed.
c. Darwin might not have never completed his book if Wallace had not come up with the same idea in 1858.

a. Survival of the fittest. It ensures that only the most dominant species survive. It keeps the population and resources from depletion by creating a natural, intense competition for food, water, air, mating and shelter. It also makes sure that one bad mutation does not carry on forever. Finally, as the land and the environment changes, it makes sure that the animals adapt to the new changes.

a. Lamarck: If an organism changes during life in order to adapt to its environment, those changes are passed on to its offspring. He said that change is made by what the organisms want or need. His theory stated that if an animal uses or disuses an organ, it will disappear or become more dominant. He provided no scientific evidence or observation for his theory.
b. Darwin: All life is related and has descended from a common ancestor. Random mutations in genetic code alter the species, and over time the accumulation of these mutations form a new species. This happens because the mutations are passed down from the parent to the offspring.

a. Variation exists among individuals in a species.
b. The organisms with the best adaptions according to the environment will survive.
c. If resources are scarce, there will be competition and the weaker organisms will die out.
d. If you have advantages you will survive and reproduce.

Divergent	Convergent	Coevolution
a. Two or relating species become more dissimilar	b. two unrelated species become more and more similar	c. two or more species in a close interaction

How Can I Test My Fax Machine?

I just hooked up a new fax machine, and I'd like to test it, just to make sure it works. How can I do that?

Presumably, you want to test your fax machine by sending a fax from it and receiving a fax with it. Here's how to do both:

To test the send functionality of your fax machine, send a one-page fax to 1 855-330-1239 (a toll-free number in the United States.) When it's finished transmitting, point your web browser to Fax Toy — it's a fun web site that displays whatever is faxed to that number. Within a minute, your fax should appear on the site. Click the thumbnail to see a large version.

To test the receive functionality of your fax machine, point your web browser to FaxZero. This site lets you send faxes for free to anywhere in the United States and Canada. Within a few minutes, your fax machine should ring — hopefully, it will automatically answer and spit out the test fax.

1.1 How to compile a `.tex` file to a `.pdf` file

1.1.1 Tools

To process the files you (may) need

- `pdftex` (for example from `tetex` package $\geq 0.9-6$, which you can get from Red Hat 5.2);
- `acroread` (a PDF viewer, available from http://www.adobe.com/);
- `ghostscript` ≥ 5.10 (for example from Red Hat Contrib) and `ghostview` or `gv` (from RedHat Linux),
- `efax` package could be useful if you plan to fax documents

1.1.2 How to use the tools

Follow these steps

1. put all source `.tex` files in one directory, then chdir to the directory (or put some of them in the TEX search path — if you know how to do this);
2. run "`pdftex file-tex`" on the main file of the document three times (three — to prepare valid table of contents)
3. to see or print the result use `acroread` (unfortunately some versions of `acroread` may produce PostScript which is too complex), or

Windows 10 arrives on July 29

Home users of Windows 7 and 8.1 will get the Windows 10 upgrade for free, but there are a few conditions

By [illegible] | July 2015, 1:30 PM PDT

Follow

After revealing Windows 10 eight months ago, Microsoft has finally announced a release date for the free upgrade from Windows 7 and 8.1. July 29, just eight weeks from now. That is a little earlier than expected, and there are a few gallings attached. First, the date is for the upgrade only. Microsoft will not release [illegible] of the retail version of Windows 10 or as a standalone download. So, if you prefer to start fresh with a clean installation of Windows, or if you want to download the update once to install on multiple devices, or if you want to obtain it on release day and install it later, you will have to wait a little longer. Second, the version for "real" phones, dubbed Windows 10 Mobile, is not a part of this scheme, as release date has not been announced.

The process works like this. Starting today, a Windows icon will pop up in your system tray if you are eligible for the upgrade. This icon [illegible] hundreds of system update installations, which [illegible] an app called Get Windows 10. If you click the icon, the app window will open, and you can make a reservation for your download of Windows 10. Presumably the process enables Microsoft to gauge how many download servers it will need to handle the launch. You can also request an email confirmation, and you can cancel your reservation at any time. If you don't make a reservation now, you can still schedule a download of Windows 10 later on (though the offer of a free upgrade expires after one year).

Dear Friend

When we are connected with nature our lives are better. We are healthier and happier, and our communities are stronger, more equitable, and more economically competitive.

Our population continues to grow, and an increasing number of people are excited to get out and experience our amazing wealth of public lands. But lack of recreational infrastructure leads to use that is detrimental to the natural landscape. Trailheads are overcrowded, trail maintenance lagging, and public transit to lands is limited. The toll on both the lands and the visitor experience is growing.

The agencies that manage these lands are doing their best to keep up, but their budgets continue to decline at the source. You can help.

The public lands of the Mountains to Sound Greenway belong to us all, and to prevent these lands from being "loved to death" we need to step up to protect them.

We believe the only way to solve these problems is through collaboration that spans the public and private sectors, brings underserved communities into the conversation, and pursues a broadly shared, long-term vision. That's how we do the work to make sure the Greenway continues to thrive at the heart of our community for many generations to come. We can't do it without you.

Please support the Greenway Trust today.

Warmly,

calibre User Manual

calibre is an ebook library manager. It can view, convert and catalog ebooks in most of the major ebook formats. It can also talk to many ebook reader devices. It can go out to the Internet and fetch metadata for your books. It can download newspapers and convert them into ebooks for convenient reading. It is cross platform, running on Linux, Windows and OS X.

You've just started calibre. What do you do now? Before calibre can do anything with your ebooks, it first has to know about them. Drag and drop a few ebook files into calibre, or click the "Add books" button and browse for the ebooks you want to work with. Once you've added the books, they will show up in the main view looking something like this

1	Hunter's Run	George R.R. Martin, Gardner Dozois, Daniel Abraham	0.4	04 Mar 2008
2	Caves of Steel	Isaac Asimov	0.9	02 Mar 2008

Once you've admired the list of books you just added to your heart's content, you'll probably want to read one. In order to do that you'll have to convert the book to a format your reader understands. When first running calibre, the Welcome Wizard starts and will set up calibre for your reader device. Conversion is a breeze. Just select the book you want to convert then click the "Convert books" button. Ignore all the options for now and click "OK". The little icon in the bottom right corner will start spinning. Once it's finished spinning, your converted book is ready. Click the "View" button to read the book.

If you want to read the book on your reader, connect it to the computer, wait till calibre detects it (10-20 seconds) and then click the "Send to device" button. Once the icon stops spinning again, disconnect your reader and read away! If you didn't convert the book in the previous step, calibre will auto convert it to the format your reader device understands.

To get started with more advanced usage, you should read about the Graphical User Interface. For even more power and versatility, learn the Command Line Interface. You will find the list of Frequently Asked Questions useful as well.

An ebook version of this user manual is available in EPUB format.

Anna KURZER

Freethinkers. He also emphatically opposed Wolff's theory of the corporeality of the soul and Leibniz' notions of monads and pre-established harmony (Hagenbach pp. 4-6)

During his tenure at the Berlin Academy, Euler continued in the employ of and remained on best terms with the St. Petersburg Academy, submitting a host of articles to enrich the pages of its journal and regularly providing it financial counsel (Fuss p. 13). His relationship with Frederick was becoming increasingly strained, partly due to the latter's growing obsession with sophistication and anything French (especially as embodied by his court philosopher Voltaire) and his diminishing respect for the decidedly inelegant Euler. Also Euler's tendency to become embroiled in arguments with Voltaire and the other philosophers in subjects about which he knew little, didn't help matters with Frederick. (Kline p. 403). Frederick went so far as to cruelly dub Euler "my cyclops" because of his conspicuous visual impairment (Dunham, pp. xxv-xxvi)

Consequently upon the invitation of the Russian empress Catherine the Great in 1766, Euler gladly returned to his former post at the St. Petersburg Academy. Shortly thereafter a cataract cost him the sight of his remaining good eye and he was virtually blind for the last seventeen years of his life. Nevertheless, the productivity of his "powerful and active imagination" (Condorcet p. 12) never declined as he performed monstrous mental calculations, wrote with large characters on a slate, and dictated new results to loyal scribes, most notably his sons. During this second tenure in St. Petersburg he produced influential works in integral calculus, algebra, dioptics, navigation, and the theory of lunar motion (Dunham, p. xxvi)

A 1771 fire in St. Petersburg destroyed Euler's home and most of his property, and he himself escaped the flames only by the heroic actions of his Swiss servant Peter Grimm, who carried his master to safety at the risk of his own life (Condorcet, pp. 12-13). Euler suffered the loss of his wife of 40 years in 1773, he remarried three years later. His two adult daughters died in the years just prior to his own death, leaving only three of the thirteen children to survive him. On Sept. 18, 1783, after studying the motion of hot-air balloons and the orbit of the newly-discovered planet Uranus, and giving his grandson a mathematics lesson, he succumbed to a massive hemorrhage and "ceased to calculate and live" (Condorcet, p. 15)

Euler's Character

Though Euler chose mathematics as a profession rather than theology, his early religious training took root in his heart and bore much fruit over his lifetime. "His piety was rational and sincere, his devotion was fervent" (Homer, p. ii). Practical demonstrations of his love for God include his unsurpassed industry and commitment to his vocation, as we have already seen; his genuine humility before God and men; his professional generosity; his uncompromising integrity and desire for justice; his heartfelt devotion to his family; and his equanimity and perseverance through multiple tragedies.

1) Humility

Despite the widespread success and acclaim he enjoyed, Euler was as unpretentious as he was accomplished. He never boasted about any of his discoveries (Condorcet p. 13). He continually marveled at the perfections of God's works and willingly acknowledged the deficiencies of man's best efforts. Concerning vision and the structure of the eye, he admitted that though we are very far short of a perfect knowledge of the subject, the little we do know of it is more than sufficient to convince us of the power and wisdom of the Creator

INT. BILL'S CAR - DAY

BILL BIXBY
I can't keep bailing you out.

CLYDE
You got me before someone else this time. If you didn't come, someone else would've.

SCENE CUT

INT. CLYDE'S PENTHOUSE - DAY

Clyde is pouring a glass of wine as Bill observes his luxurious home.

CLYDE
Wine?

BILL BIXBY
No thanks, I didn't. Haven't had a drop of alcohol since Jeremy nineties.

Clyde sips his wine and then sits down on his sofa, looking out a large window.

BILL BIXBY
(confused)
So, is this all you want out of life?

CLYDE
What?

Our Father, which art in heaven,
hallowed be thy name.
thy kingdom come.
thy will be done,
in earth as it is in heaven
Give us this day our daily bread
And forgive us our trespasses,
as we forgive them that trespass against us
And lead us not into temptation
but deliver us from evil
[For thine is the kingdom,
the power and the glory,
for ever and ever.]

Presumably, you want to test your fax machine by sending a fax from it and receiving a fax with it. Here's how to do both.

To test the send functionality of your fax machine, send a one page fax to 1-855-330-1239 (a toll-free number in the United States.) When it's finished transmitting, point your web browser to Fax Toy — it's a fun web site that displays whatever is faxed to that number. Within a minute, your fax should appear on the site. Click the thumbnail to see a large version.

To test the receive functionality of your fax machine, point your web browser to FaxZero; this site lets you send faxes for free to anywhere in the United States and Canada. Within a few minutes, your fax machine should ring — hopefully, it will automatically answer and spit out the test fax.

Your Retirement Benefit: How It Is Figured

As you make plans for your retirement, you may ask, "How much will I get from Social Security?" There are several ways you can find out. Social Security sends a yearly Social Security Statement to everyone age 25 or older who has paid Social Security taxes and has not yet received benefits. You should receive a Statement about three months before your birthday each year.

You also can request a Statement by calling Social Security and asking for a form SSA-7004, Request for Social Security Statement, or by downloading the form at www.socialsecurity.gov/online/ssa-7004.html on the Internet. Or you can use the Benefit Planners at www.socialsecurity.gov/planners to estimate your benefit.

Many people wonder how their benefit is figured. Social Security benefits are based on your lifetime earnings. Your actual earnings are adjusted or "indexed" to account for changes in average wages since the year the earnings were received. Then Social Security calculates your average indexed monthly earnings during the years in which you earned the most. We apply a formula to those earnings and arrive at your basic benefit, or "primary insurance amount" (PIA). This is how much you would receive at your full retirement age—65 or older, depending on your date of birth.

On the back of this page is a worksheet you can use to estimate your retirement benefit if you were born in 1945. It is only an estimate, for specific information about your situation, you should talk with a Social Security representative.

Factors that can change the amount of your retirement benefit:

- You choose to get benefits before your full retirement age. You can begin to receive Social Security benefits as early as age 62 but at a reduced rate. Your basic benefit will be reduced by a certain percentage if you retire before reaching full retirement age.
- You are eligible for cost-of-living benefit increases starting with the year you become age 62. This is true even if you do not get benefits until your full retirement age or even age 70. Cost-of-living increases are added to your benefit beginning with the year you reach 62 up to the year you start getting benefits.
- You delay your retirement past your full retirement age. Social Security benefits are increased by a certain percentage (depending on your date of birth) if you delay receiving benefits until past your full retirement age. If you do so, your benefit amount will be increased until you reach age 70.
- You are a government worker with a pension. If you also get or are eligible for a pension from work where you did not pay Social Security taxes (usually a government job), a different formula is applied to your average indexed monthly earnings. To find out how your benefit is figured, contact Social Security and ask for Windfall Elimination Provision [Publication No. 05-10045] or review it online at www.socialsecurity.gov/pubs/10045.html.

You may find a more detailed explanation about how your retirement benefit is calculated in the Annual Statistical Supplement, 2005 – Appendix D which is publication is available on the Internet at www.socialsecurity.gov/policy/docs/statcomp/supplement/2005 or you can order a paper copy by writing to the Government Printing Office, P.O. Box 371954, Pittsburgh, PA 15250-7954.

Prayer to St. Joseph over 1900 years old

O St. Joseph whose protection is so great, so strong, so prompt before the Throne of God, I place in you all my interests and desires. O St. Joseph do assist me by your powerful intercession and obtain for me from your Divine Son all spiritual blessings through Jesus Christ, Our Lord; so that having engaged here below your Heavenly power I may offer my Thanksgiving and Homage to the most Loving of Fathers. O St. Joseph, I never weary contemplating you and Jesus asleep in your arms. I dare not approach while He reposes near your heart. Press him in my name and kiss His fine Head for me, and ask Him to return the Kiss when I draw my dying breath. St. Joseph, Patron of departing souls, pray for us. Amen

Say for nine consecutive mornings for anything you may desire.

It has seldom been known to fail.

This prayer was found in the fiftieth year of Our Lord Jesus Christ. In 1500's it was sent by the Pope to Emperor Charles when he was going into battle.

Whoever reads this prayer or hears it or carries it, will never die a sudden death, nor be drowned, nor will poison take effect on them. They will not fall into the hands of the enemy nor be burned in any fire, nor will they be defeated in battle.

Make this prayer known everywhere.

How Can I Test My Fax Machine?

Presumably you want to test your fax machine by sending a fax from it and receiving a fax with it. Here's how to do both:

To test the send functionality of your fax machine, send a message to [illegible] 1 510-845-9995 (a number in Northern California) when it's finished transmitting, you'll see web page telling you whether your fax was successful. If it's successful, you'll see that displayed within a minute or so. Within a minute, your fax should appear on this site. Click the thumbnail to see a larger version.

To test the receive functionality of your fax machine, point your web browser to FaxZero.com. This site lets you send faxes for free to anywhere in the United States and Canada. Within a few minutes, your fax machine should ring — hopefully it will automatically answer and spit out the test fax.

Test the number you are sending to.

If I get a delivery failure on my machine, the first thing I do is dial the fax number from my regular phone and see what kind of tone I get. If I get the normal fax tone or a kind of high-pitched shrill whistle, I'm all done. I know that, first. Half the time, I have hung up with, oops, and soon realize that the fax machine is working. I just need to [illegible] my fax machine. If I get a math riddle, I hear a busy signal, that usually means the recipient's machine is occupied and I wait till later to try again.

Some older fax machines require that the recipient set the machine to "receive" from their end. Fax won't automatically go through on all fax machines. Some fax machines require that the recipient actually "answer" the fax machine, much like you would answer a regular phone call) and then the recipient hits a button or switch on their machine, and then fax will go through. You might need to ask the recipient if this is one of these (I suspect it might be), especially since the message you are receiving says "fax not received."

I really hope this helps.

Peace.

Common to all switches participating in VTP

Server Mode
Generates and propagates VTP advertisements to clients; default mode on unconfigured switches

Client Mode
Receives and forwards advertisements from servers; VLANs cannot be manually configured on switches in client mode

Transparent Mode
Forwards advertisements but does not participate in VTP; VLANs must be configured manually

Pruning
VLANs not having any access ports on an end switch are removed from the trunk to reduce flooded traffic

VTP Configuration

Switch(config)# vtp mode {server | client | transparent}

Welcome to HP JetAdvantage Private Print

About this App

HP JetAdvantage Private Print is a cloud-based, secure private printing app bundled with many HP inkjet printers. The solution allows companies and individuals to safeguard printed documents — even in shared print environments. Simply send a document to the HP cloud from your computer or mobile device, then go to your printer to login and release the job, reducing the risk of documents ending up in the wrong hands.

In addition to secure printing, the app reduces waste from misplaced or abandoned print jobs and avoids accidental printing on expensive specialty papers.

Private Print works through the HP JetAdvantage for Remote website — which enables convenient management of HP printing apps from a centralized, web-based dashboard.

One Response to "How Can I Test My Fax Machine?"

1. Sharing a fax machine on a voice line - Fax Answers Says:
   May 23rd, 2006 at 9:16 am

   [...] I have a fax machine on the same phone line that I use for voice calls. I just tried to send myself a test fax using FaxZero.com. My phone rang, and I thought it was a voice call and then heard the fax sound and hung up. The phone rang again. Now, this time I made it ring about 6 or 7 rings. I know that I shouldn't pick it up if it's a fax, but I do not know how many rings it should take to complete the fax. How does one determine if it's a personal call? I do not have call waiting. How do I know when the fax is completed and verify it? [...]

Autistic Children Exhibit Undetectable Hemagglutination-Inhibition Antibody Titers Despite Previous Rubella Vaccination[1,2]

E. Gene Stubbs[3]
University of Oregon Health Sciences Center

The etiology of autism is unknown, but autism has been associated with a number of diseases, including prenatal rubella. Rubella vaccine challenge was used in an attempt to retrospectively diagnose prenatal rubella in autistic children. This test was selected because unresponsiveness of antibody titer has been reported as helpful in retrospective diagnosing of prenatal rubella. Fifteen autistic children and 5 controls matched for age were challenged with rubella vaccine. Rubella vaccine challenge did not differentiate autistic children from the control subjects. However, 5 of 13 autistic children had undetectable titers despite previous vaccine, all control subjects had detectable titers. This finding of undetectable titers in autistic children suggests these children may have an altered immune response.

Although the etiology of autism is unknown, it has been linked with prenatal rubella virus. Several investigators report a higher prevalence of autism associated with prenatal rubella than in the normal population (Chess, Korn, & Fernandez, 1971; Desmond, Wilson, Verneaud, Melnick, & Rawls, 1970; Feldman, Pinsky, Mendelson & Lajoie, 1973). The link between the behavioral disorder (autism) and viral disease may be more prevalent than reported because most autistic children are not diagnosed at birth when prenatal disorders associated with viruses are diagnosable. Longitudinal studies of prenatal rubella have established that many signs

No apocalypse, aliens, angels, unearthly beings, etc. to report. Although, this may change if Donald Trump is elected President of the United States of America! Let us hope the majority actually votes. If they do, he has - mathematically speaking - no chance at facilitating the destruction of OUR GREAT Nation!

not sure if anyone responded to you? If not, here's the instructions that worked for me (moderators, if inappropriate, please delete)

Enable Developers menu:
1. press the setup key (wrench symbol)
2. press the right arrow key quickly followed by the cancel key. The trick with this is that #asterisk of these numbers is lit up at this point - you just have to remember where they are, the right arrow is in the middle of the right edge, the cancel is at the #orange of the right edge below the
7. This should send you back to the home screen.
8. press the setup key
4. Developers menu should be the first item in the menu. If it is the #orange key 2.
5. Select Developers menu
6. Arrow down to Fax Settings item. Select Fax settings

To change ring detection level.
1. Get into developers menu - the settings using steps 1-6 above.
2. Select R/W parameter
3. Enter 021 for the parameter number - press OK. Should display RingDetLowThres for a moment then go to 14. This is the default value
4. Enter the new value of 23 and then press OK to save this value
5. Select R/W parameter
6. Enter 022 for the parameter number - press OK - should display RingDetHighThres for a moment then go to 14. This is the default value.
7. Enter the new value of 08 and then press OK to save this value

If this does not work - increase value. If it is set the high the ring detection will be work. After changing the setting make sure the unit will answer an incoming call.

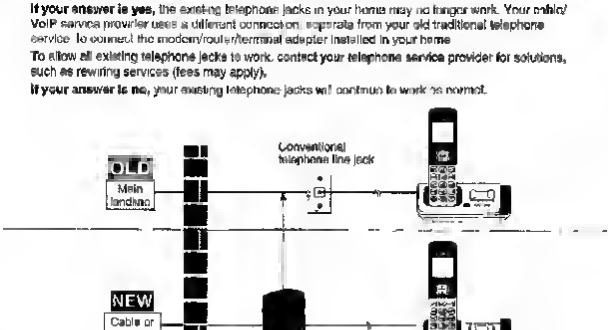
IMPORTANT

Are you a new cable or VoIP subscriber?

If your answer is yes, the existing telephone jacks in your home may no longer work. Your cable/VoIP service provider uses a different connection, separate from your old traditional telephone service, to connect the modem/router/terminal adapter installed in your home.

To allow all existing telephone jacks to work, contact your telephone service provider for solutions, such as rewiring services (fees may apply).

If your answer is no, your existing telephone jacks will continue to work as normal.



Did you subscribe to voicemail service from your telephone service provider?

Your telephone has a built-in answering system and supports voicemail feature offered by your telephone service provider (subscription is required, and fees may apply). Refer to Answering system and voicemail in the user's manual for more details.

To use the built-in answering system:

Refer to the Abridged user's manual provided in the product package on how to record your outgoing announcement, retrieve messages and other related operations. You may also view the online Complete user's manual at www.vtechphones.com for complete instructions.

To use the voicemail:

To retrieve your voicemail messages, you typically dial an access number provided by your telephone service provider, and then enter a security code. Contact your telephone service provider

United Healthcare says they can t process my claims because the tax ID number you used shows you as non-participating in Medicare Also that they can t modify a claim to add or change information because it is against the law So the claims must be resubmitted with a different tax ID number (like the one , they say you used on my first visit this year) or alternately, I can summit the claims myself I m willing to do this to get the claims paid but, I would need all of the required documentation What do you suggest?

Adobe Acrobat PDF Files

Adobe® Portable Document Format (PDF) is a universal file format that preserves all of the fonts, formatting, colours and graphics of any source document, regardless of the application and platform used to create it.

Adobe PDF is an ideal format for electronic document distribution as it overcomes the problems commonly encountered with electronic file sharing.

- Anyone, anywhere can open a PDF file. All you need is the free Adobe Acrobat Reader. Recipients of other file formats sometimes can't open files because they don't have the applications used to create the documents.
- PDF files always print correctly on any printing device.
- PDF files always display exactly as created, regardless of fonts, software, and operating systems. Fonts, and graphics are not lost due to platform, software, and version incompatibilities.
- The free Acrobat Reader is easy to download and can be freely distributed by anyone.
- Compact PDF files are smaller than their source files and download a page at a time for fast display on the Web.

Hello World!

Our Father, which art in heaven,

hallowed be thy name,

thy kingdom come

thy will be done,

on earth as it is in heaven

Give us this day our daily bread

And forgive us our trespasses,

as we forgive them that trespass against us

And lead us not into temptation

but deliver us from evil

[For thine is the kingdom,

the power, and the glory

for ever and ever]

Amen

Features some of the best explorers of sound poetry and general transformers of the spoken word. Is this nonsense? Is it music? Are we serious? Ultimately we don't know but we really enjoy it and this is a fun introduction to a kind of audio art that all too often is alienating. Features, amongst others: the work of Jaap Blonk, Leif Elggren & Thomas Lilfenberg, Christian Bok and Stanley Unwin

Sound-Poetry is a form of art where the human voice is used as an exploratory instrument, and language is subjected to the death of rationality. It can sound powerful and ludicrous, often both at the same time.

One of the main reasons for creating a sound-poetry based episode is that sound poetry is often considered in "avant garde music circles" as something of a sacred cow, and it is completely unacceptable to find amusing the screaming man spluttering saliva and nonsense invective before the microphone. But more fool them squares in the music circles. Bad line that, like a 1980s T shirt.

I have always found sound-poetry and much music that is put under the umbrella of the avant-garde very very funny. It makes me smile and laugh. Sometimes out loud. Sometimes a wry smirk like a disgruntled accountant silently farting in a meeting with the bosses.

One of the principal reasons we wanted to look at this was to convey the much hidden fact that it's alright to laugh at this kind of work. And equally important, that humour in art (or to respond to art with humour whatever the intention of the artist) does not detract whatsoever from the quality of the art.

In fact humour in art can often greatly enhance the quality and accessibility of a production. It is, after all, arguably far more difficult to create something amusing than something deadly serious.

Try both and see it can.

for Mac OS X and other UNIX operating systems like Linux.

The only needed is a web browser and Linux ppd file. Perhaps is needed to verify on your operative system the cups package installed.

Important: This only works on Linux and UNIX OS. Not for use under Windows OS.

How to do it:

1 - Open your web browser and go to http://localhost:631/

2 - Press on Administration tap and click on Add Printer. If you are asked for user and password, type name of user and password of your operative system.

3 - Select Internet Printing Protocol (http) or Printer or Other Network Printers:

4 - On connection tab fill in: socket://hostname

For example, the Hostname, could be the IP of your printer.

Something like that: socket://10.34.21.2:

5 - At this point you will be asked for Name, Description and Location of your printer. Fill in as you like and press continue.

6 - Select PPD File and browse to the folder or your computer where the PPD file is.

7 - Once you selected it, press Add Printer.

8 - Now is possible to set default options or Query Printer for Default Options.

From now the printer is ready for use. At http://localhost:631 is possible to see Printers installed on your system, configure them and manage jobs

To the right are pages that folks have faxed us recently. Click any thumbnail to see the large version and rate it for interestingness.

You can fax something interesting to 1 888 877 1655 (your boss will never notice... maybe) or 1 503 200-1300 (long distance to Portland, Oregon) and it should appear here within a couple of minutes. (If it's a toll free number if you're in the USA.) Keep it clean & legal.

Fax single page documents with no cover sheet. If you fax more than one page, only the last page will appear here. We try to snip off the top few pixels of the page where your company name and fax number should appear, but make no promises that this will actually work.

this requirement is satisfied. When non-vertical uprights or "swoopy" side bay designs are used (i.e., uprights installed at greater than 30 degrees from vertical), adjacent roll-cage diagonals must be the same size as that required for the upright. Motor mount and/or rear-end uprights (except rear-engine dragster) may be rectangular tubing, 1 3/4-inch x 1-inch x .095-inch CM or .085 minimum.

For all vehicles required to meet SFI Specification 2.1, 2.2S, 2.3M, 2.4S, 2.5S, 2.6, 2.7S, 10.1E and 10.4 the upper cage side members must have roof/halfmetal gussets of one-inch by .058-inch round tube on all new chassis or as rebuilded recertification. Effective Jan. 1, 2007 all new Street Roadsters must conform to SFI Spec 10.4 Existing Street Roadsters must meet SFI Spec 10.4 at their next scheduled recertification effective Jan. 1, 2009. No existing cars will be recertified early to delay compliance.

Full-Bodied Cars

On full-bodied cars with driver in driving position, helmet must be in front of main hoop. If helmet is behind or under main hoop, additional bracing same size and thickness as roll cage must be added to protect driver. Main hoop may be laid back or forward, but driver must be encapsulated within the squared roll cage components. On unibody cars with stock floor and firewall (where tube permitted), the roll cage may be bolted or welded to the floor/rocker box via 6-inch x 6-inch x .125-inch steel plates similar to the roll bar attachment requirements in paragraphs 4.1 in this section. Unless attaching to OEM floor or frame, the minimum requirements for a frame member to which a roll cage member is

Rear-engine dragsters with 5 points of attachment, and some R- and C-(center frame/chassis/roller hoop) becomes 1.625-inch x .065-inch (Effec. 1994) min. MS.

2 - If over 10 inches, see note B, and D (center frame/chassis/roller hoop) becomes 1.625-inch x .095-inch min. or 1.75-inch MS.

3 - If an X or H design is used then .120" x .058", otherwise E.

4 - If lower horizontal members are not inside uprights, must include a 1.625" x .095" crossmember between front brace uprights (rear bar crossmember) min. 5 inches, max. 10 inches above lower frame/rails.

CommView Multi-User and CommView Single-User

Platform Requirements

The following is a guideline that can be used to address the minimum supportable configuration. We welcome you to contact us for advice on a configuration tailored to your specific deployment.

CommView is a powerful, flexible and scalable solution. System requirements may vary depending upon a number of factors including: the number of CDR/SMDR sources, collection method(s) and the number of sites supported by the specific implementation.

Windows Server 2008 R2 Windows Server 2012 R2 Windows 7 Professional Windows 8.1 Pro	CommView Multi-User bundle includes WebReporter – Requires .NET Framework 4.0 and IIS 7 (Installing/operating on an OS past EOL is at your own risk due to absence of security patches.)

@Comm supports continuing on Microsoft's support of these operating systems.
As a general rule, the computer must meet the minimum requirements of the Windows OS being utilized.
@Comm recommends the use of virtual environments provided all requirements are met. ***
Where choosing a virtual environment, IP-based polling must be implemented and it is recommended to assign a second processor at a minimum.

Pentium 4 Processor or greater	A multi core processor improves performance
2GB RAM	4GB RAM improves performance significantly
40GB Hard Drive	180GB for optimal storage & improved reporting speed
At least 4GB free disk space for programs and workspace	Estimate 100MB disk space required per 100,000 calls stored
Ethernet connectivity with Internet access required for remote assistance	SMTP, HTTP and FTP protocol support and/or settings needed for optimal configuration

Options:

- COM Port(s) (Required if serial polling option is being used and/or serial PMS posting for hospitality)
- V.90/92 Modem (Optional for Dial-up Polling)

For configurations of >5,000 stations, a 2-CPU configuration is recommended to improve performance. The most significant improvements in system performance can be gained by increasing the amount of RAM in the workstation/server running CommView.

CommView IP Software Buffer

The CommView IP Software buffer installs locally on a customer's network and runs as a service in a Windows environment to enable the acquisition and forwarding of CDR data to the CommView environment. If deployed in a remote or distributed site, network and/or Internet connectivity is required with support for typical ports and protocols. Be aware of COM port requirements for PBXs that output via RS-232. This module shares the Operating Systems requirements listed above.

CommView Multi-User and CommView Web Client

For report users and administrators accessing via our Browser Interface: Any Windows PC running a current browser from Microsoft, Mozilla or Google. @Comm aims to maintain compatibility with the latest browser versions of Internet Explorer, Firefox and Chrome.

TEST

How Can I Test My Fax Machine?

I just looked up a new fax machine and I'd like to test it just to make sure it works. How can I do that?

Presumably you want to test your fax machine by sending a fax from it and receiving a fax with it. Here's how to do both:

To test the send functionality of your fax machine, send a one page fax to 1 855 329 1239 (a toll free number in the United States); when it's finished transmitting, point your web browser to FaxZero.com — it's a fun web site that displays whatever is faxed to that number. Within a minute your fax should appear on the site. Click the thumbnail to see a large version.

To test the receive functionality of your fax machine, point your web browser to FaxZero.com; this site lets you send faxes for free to anywhere in the United States and Canada. Within a few minutes your fax machine should ring — hopefully it will automatically answer and spit out the test fax.

Stackable Shoe Rack

You don't have to be famous for your shoe collection to appreciate a handy closet organizer like our shoe rack. The racks are designed to stack on top of each other so you can make as many as need. You can also vary the length of the racks to fit your closet.

The pine lumber and steel joint-connector construction makes these racks light but sturdy. And they're easy. The joint connectors employ a cross dowel and connector bolt to securely join two perpendicular wood parts. To mount them you simply drill two holes: a shank hole for the connector bolt and a larger hole for the cross dowel. It's a new wrinkle on an old idea. Wood cross dowels have been used for generations to provide a secure anchor when driving a screw into end grain. The steel variety allows you to easily disassemble the shoe racks.

First cut the sides (A) and stretchers (B) to the sizes shown on the Bill of Materials. We list enough parts to make two complete racks.

With the parts cut to size, move on to drilling the holes. Use

This is a test #jbp from Ben

A blind cowboy walked into a bar. He found his way to the bar and ordered a beer.

He sat there for several minutes drinking his beer then suddenly stood up and said, "Hey, do y'all want to hear a blonde joke?"

The whole place went deathly silent.

The cowboy heard a woman's voice off to his left say, "Before you tell your blonde joke let me give you a little information."

She said, "I am six feet tall, I weigh 197 pounds and I am a professional wrestler. I am also a blonde.

She continued, "Sitting beside me is my wrestling partner. She is six feet two inches tall, weighs 207 pounds, and she too is blonde.

"Furthermore," she said, "the bartender that just served you is five feet eleven inches tall and weighs 186 pounds. She is a professional boxer and she too is a blonde. Now considering this new information, do you still want to tell your little blonde joke?"

The cowboy replied, "No, Ma'am- not if I'm going to have to explain it three times!"

MY LOVE HAS FLOWN

3 Total premiums
Your financial representative will help ensure that the total amount for all of your life insurance premium payments fits within your budget

4 Financing new contracts with existing contracts
If you choose to finance a new contract using funds from an existing contract, we will review the suitability of this option to ensure this is the right decision for your situation

5 Total replacement of permanent life insurance
Generally it is not in your best interest to replace an existing contract in favor of a new contract. A contract you've had in force for a period of time has certain advantages. Your premium may be lower than what similar coverage today would cost, and any surrender charge periods may be over. Options also may be available on your existing contract that are not included in the new contract. If a new contract requires a premium rating—and subsequently a higher premium—because of your present health, the costs for a new contract may outweigh any benefits

6. Multiple contracts on the same life
Generally it is not in your best interest to purchase multiple contracts of the same type and at the same time on the same life when one larger contract is available. You often pay increased costs for multiple insurance contracts. Keep in mind that you may have an option to increase your coverage on an existing contract.

7 Funding levels for flexible premium life insurance plans
The premiums you pay for flexible premium contracts (such as universal life and variable universal life) should be adequate to meet your needs and expectations for the coverage. It is important that you understand how long the insurance coverage will continue if premiums are regularly paid at the premium level chosen and how your contract would be affected if premiums were reduced or stopped

8. Rated contracts
When considering life insurance coverage at older ages, particularly when a premium rating would be applied (resulting in higher premiums because of health issues), it may not be in your best interest to purchase life insurance unless special circumstances exist. If you proceed with purchasing the coverage, be sure to understand the impact a rating will have on the cost of the contract over time

Advisory Process

The [redacted] Advisory Process, along with these standards and the guidance of your financial representative, should be used to determine which types of life insurance may be suitable for you.

Ficus Whitefly
A New Pest in South Florida

Introduction: There is a new pest attacking ficus trees and hedges in Miami-Dade, Broward and Palm Beach Counties, Florida. This pest was identified as the fig (ficus) whitefly, Singhiella simplex, and is a new US continental record. Whiteflies are small, winged insects that belong to the Order Hemiptera which also includes aphids, scales, mealybugs, and bugs. These insects typically feed on the underside of leaves with their "needle-like" mouthparts. Whiteflies can seriously injure host plants by sucking juices from them causing wilting, yellowing, stunting, leaf drop, or even death.

Description and Damage: The leaves of ficus trees infested with whiteflies begin to turn yellow before the leaves are dropped from the plant. Ficus trees without their leaves are one of the most obvious symptoms of a whitefly infestation. This whitefly has been most commonly found infesting weeping fig (Ficus benjamina) but has also been reported on F. altissima (lofty fig, false banyan tree) F. bengalensis (also called "banyan tree"), F. microcarpa (Cuban laurel), F. aurea (strangler fig), F. lyrata (fiddle-leaf fig), and F. maxillardi (= F. binnendijkii) (banana-leaf fig). This whitefly may eventually be found on other species of ficus.

If the foliage is disturbed the small, white gnat-like adult whiteflies can be seen flying from the foliage. The adult whitefly resembles a very small moth with a yellow body and white wings with a faint grey band in the middle of the wings. Immature stages (eggs and nymphs) can be found primarily on the underside of the leaves. Prior to adult emergence, the nymphs are tan to light green discs with red eyes. The undersides of infested leaves look like they are dotted with small silver or white spots which are actually the empty "skin" of the pupae after the adult emerges.

Biology: The life cycle of the ficus whitefly is approximately one month. Eggs which are usually laid on the underside of leaves hatch into a crawler stage. The crawler wanders around the leaf until they begin to feed. From this point until they emerge as adults they are choices our politics, and most importantly our identities—those things we most cherish about our communities, our families, our traditions, and our faith.

But I also know that human progress cannot be denied. There need not be contradiction between development and tradition. Countries like Japan and South Korea grew their economies while maintaining distinct cultures. The same is true for the astonishing progress within Muslim majority countries from Kuala Lumpur to Dubai. In ancient times and in our times, Muslim communities have been at the forefront of innovation and education.

This is important because no development strategy can be based only upon what comes out of the ground, nor can it be sustained while young people are out of work. Many Gulf States have enjoyed great wealth as a consequence of oil, and some are beginning to focus it on broader development. But all of us must recognize that education and innovation will be the currency of the 21st century, and in too many Muslim communities there remains underinvestment in these areas. I am emphasizing such investments within my country. And while America in the past has focused on oil and gas in this part of the world, we now seek a broader engagement.

On education, we will expand exchange programs, and increase scholarships, like the one that brought my father to America, while encouraging more Americans to study in Muslim communities. And we will match promising Muslim students with internships in America, invest in on-line learning for teachers and children around the world, and create a new online network, so a teenager in Kansas can communicate instantly with a teenager in Cairo.

On economic development, we will create a new corps of business volunteers to partner with counterparts in Muslim-majority countries. And I will host a Summit on Entrepreneurship this year to identify how we can deepen ties between business leaders, foundations and social entrepreneurs in the United States and Muslim communities around the world.

On science and technology, we will launch a new fund to support technological development in Muslim majority countries, and to help transfer ideas to the marketplace so they can create jobs. We will open centers of scientific excellence in Africa, the Middle East and Southeast Asia, and appoint new Science Envoys to collaborate on programs that develop new sources of energy, create green jobs, digitize records, clean water, and grow new crops. And today I am announcing a new global effort with the Organization of the Islamic Conference to eradicate polio. And we will also expand partnerships with Muslim communities to promote child and maternal health.

All these things must be done in partnership. Americans are ready to join with citizens and governments, community organizations, religious leaders, and businesses in Muslim communities around the world to help our people pursue a better life.

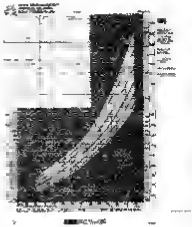
Dear Parent(s)/Guardian(s)



As our children grow, most of us see charts like the one to the right. Our doctors weigh our children and measure how tall they are. This information is put on a chart like the one to the right. This chart shows where our child stands compared to other children and how fast they are growing. These charts help doctors to understand if our children are growing properly or if something may be wrong, enabling them to do something to help as soon as possible.

Doctors use children's height and weight as "Well Checks" or vital signs of development. We all know how important it is for our children to "grow" in academic areas as well. In fact, successfully learning to read at an early age is probably one of the most important factors in a child's learning, both inside and outside of school.

Because academic growth is so important on a regular basis, our school is going to give you "Well Check" information indicating how well your child is doing in academic areas including reading and math. This information will be given to you three times per year: fall, winter, and spring. The "Well Checks" are simple and accurate. We like to think of it as taking your child's academic temperature.

As a school team, we use these "Well Checks" to help plan instruction. This information helps us individualize for students who are above or below average in their reading abilities. We use these tests, our observations, and your child's work in the classroom to plan additional readiness skills instruction (intervention).

Your child's scores are represented by a dot. The box on the graph represents the Average range (between the 25th and 75th percentile). The line extending below the box represents the Below Average range and the line extending above the box represents the Above Average range. The heavy black line within the box represents the target or expected, score for that test. Their actual score is shown in the chart below this graph. Information regarding the specific test(s) administered to your child is given on the following page.

ADDENDUM REPORT

[redacted] a result of the MammaPrint 70-gene prognosis profile. The MammaPrint result is calculated from a signature index based on [redacted] tumors with clinical [redacted]. It is a combined, qualitative and quantitative measurement of [redacted]. Patients are considered high risk [redacted] For node negative patients [redacted] on average 10 years distant metastasis-free survival (DMFS) and a 97% average 5-year systemic relapse treatment while High Risk [redacted] indicates an average 10 year DMFS rate of 71% without any systemic adjuvant treatment.

Additional Comments:
Amended/Addendum/Corrected Comments: Pathology Comments: Pathology Comments: We were notified to provide a MammaPrint result for this specimen due to insufficient amount of RNA. Please resubmit an alternate specimen if available and clinically indicated.

Assay Description

[redacted] ed N=94 A clearance of MammaPrint with fresh tissue for patients of for ages with invasive breast cancer whose tumor s [redacted] hrogen receptor status (ER+/-). Globally the U.S. MammaPrint has accomplish a definitive clearance n compliants with [redacted] fresh and formalin-fixed paraffin-embedded (FFPE) breast cancer tissue for patients with up to 3 positive lymph [redacted] e cancer patterns. The test is performed using a microarray-based gene expression profile that was independently [redacted] n and cancer. An unbiased, supervised analysis of the entire human genome - 25,000 genes, followed by a bootstrap-out [redacted] model, provides a reliable, 70-gene signature to separate patients in High Risk vs. Low Risk of metastasis. Therefore, this MammaPrint result provides [redacted] independently validated, and clinically significant additive information to physicians to help them decide on treatment in early stage breast cancer disease.

Based on the analytical performance of MammaPrint, the precision of classifying a sample as High Risk or Low Risk is 89% for fresh and 97.3% for FFPE, and the repeatability of the measurement is 96% for fresh and 97.8% for FFPE*. Furthermore, when a fresh sample's MammaPrint index (MPI) falls within a pre-defined area around the classification cut-off between -0.0673 and +0.0673, the classification accuracy is less than 90%.

At present, a request for density output cards in a sensitometric computations run yields density cards corresponding to densitometer densities. If the test code used involves E N D conversions, the density output cards must be run through a separate conversion program to correspond densities in plotted [illegible] all corresponding to individual strips are punched wi[illegible] densities.

I am p[illegible] density card output is requested plotted densities are punched out. In the normal case there would simply be the average densities. If the test code calls for E N D conversion it would be the E N D densities that are punched out. If the test breaks down, e.g. because of range check failure, we would get cards punched out for individual strips, since individuals are plotted in that case.

It is a long established fact that a reader will be distracted by the readable content of a page when looking at its layout. The point of using Lorem Ipsum is that it has a more-or-less normal distribution of letters, as opposed to using 'Content here, content here', making it look like readable English. Many desktop publishing packages and web page editors now use Lorem Ipsum as their default model text, and a search for 'lorem ipsum' will uncover many web sites still in their infancy. Various versions have evolved over the years, sometimes by accident, sometimes on purpose (injected humour and the like).

Contrary to popular belief, Lorem Ipsum is not simply random text. It has roots in a piece of classical Latin literature from 45 BC, making it over 2000 years old. Richard McClintock, a Latin professor at Hampden-Sydney College in Virginia, looked up one of the more obscure Latin words, consectetur, from a Lorem Ipsum passage, and going through the cites of the word in classical literature, discovered the undoubtable source. Lorem Ipsum comes from sections 1.10.32 and 1.10.33 of "de Finibus Bonorum et Malorum" (The Extremes of Good and Evil) by Cicero, written in 45 BC. This book is a treatise on the theory of ethics, very popular during the Renaissance. The first line of Lorem Ipsum, "Lorem ipsum dolor sit amet..", comes from a line in section 1.10.32.

The standard chunk of Lorem Ipsum used since the 1500s is reproduced below for those interested. Sections 1.10.32 and 1.10.33 from "de Finibus Bonorum et Malorum" by Cicero are also reproduced in their exact original form, accompanied by English versions from the 1914 translation by H. Rackham.

There are many variations of passages of Lorem Ipsum available, but the majority have suffered alteration in some form, by injected humour, or randomised words which don't look even slightly believable. If you are going to use a passage of Lorem Ipsum, you need to be sure there isn't anything embarrassing hidden in the middle of text. All the Lorem Ipsum generators on the Internet tend to repeat predefined chunks as necessary, making this the first true generator on the Internet. It uses a dictionary of over 200 Latin words, combined with a handful of model sentence structures, to generate Lorem Ipsum which looks reasonable. The generated Lorem Ipsum is therefore always free from repetition, injected humour, or non-characteristic words etc.

A WORD ABOUT YOUR NEW FURNITURE

AMISH HANDCRAFTED QUALITY Each piece of The Amish Connection furniture has been handcrafted by our Amish builders. None of our furniture is factory produced. All of the furniture at The Amish Connection is carefully crafted with attention to detail. Northern Red Oak, Cherry, and Walnut from local area saw mills are kiln dried to ensure that strength and durability will be inherent in the furniture. As with all furniture made of solid wood, color variation and variation in the grain are normal and natural characteristics which add to the beauty and unique character of each individual piece. These variations are particularly pronounced in the unstained, natural pieces.

FURNITURE CARE Little effort is required in living with solid wood furniture. It won't behave like plastic or Formica, it will breathe and condition itself to the climate. Extremes in temperature could cause problems with solid wood furniture. Every effort should be made to keep your solid wood furniture away from prolonged exposure to heat sources such as baseboard heaters, direct sunlight, and wood stoves. Although most homes normally maintain adequate humidity, it is best if the humidity is between 35-50%. For everyday care of kitchen and dining room tables, just wipe with a damp cloth. For periodic dusting, we recommend using a mild solution of Murphy's Oil Soap and water with a damp cloth. DO NOT use any products containing silicone. To avoid possible permanent discolorization, which can be left by the rubber feet of your electronics (known as plasticization migration), place a barrier between the rubber feet of your electronics and your furniture. For care of your gliders & gliding ottomans we recommend dusting off and oiling the bearing mechanism every 3-6 months to help keep them working smoothly. By following these guidelines you can ensure that the handcrafted furniture you purchase today will become tomorrow's treasured heirlooms.

THE AMISH CONNECTION, INC. GUARANTEE Our guarantee is simple. Should your indoor furniture be defective in either material or workmanship, we will repair or replace it for up to 5 years. A full detailed description of our Guarantee is on the back of your original furniture Sales Invoice. In the event that damage is due to negligence or misuse, we will repair when possible for a nominal fee.

WE ARE HERE FOR YOU Should you have any questions or concerns regarding the care of the furniture you purchased at The Amish Connection, please call or come by and visit us again at our store.

THANK YOU FOR YOUR PATRONAGE We appreciate your business and being given the opportunity to serve you. Please let us know how we may better serve you in the future.

Web Services

Enable HP Web Services

2. On the Web page that appears, click on the HP Web Services tab.

HP ePrint

Print from Anywhere

HP's free ePrint service provides an easy way to print from e-mail, anywhere and anytime. Simply attach a file to an e-mail and send it to this printer's e-mail address. The attachment will print automatically on this printer. Supported attachment file types include .pdf, .jpg, .tif, and Microsoft Office(R) documents.

NOTE: Attachments may print differently than they appear in the software program which created them, depending on the original fonts and layout options used.

Your Printer is Protected

To help prevent unauthorized e-mail, HP assigns a random e-mail address to your printer. Never publicize this address, and by default does not respond to any sender. ePrint also provides industry-standard spam filtering and transforms e-mail and attachments to a print-only format to reduce the threat of a virus or other harmful content.

NOTE: The ePrint service does not filter e-mails based on content, so it cannot prevent objectionable or copyrighted material from being printed.

HP ePrintCenter

Use the HP ePrintCenter Web Site

Use HP's free ePrintCenter Web site to set up increased security for ePrint, specify the e-mail addresses that are allowed to send e-mail to your printer, get Print Apps (if available for your product), and access other free services.

- Go to the HP ePrintCenter Web site for more information and specific terms and conditions. http://www.hpeprintcenter.com

High-frequency noise detected

The fax modem has detected high-frequency noise on the telephone line. This noise might be caused by a DSL/ADSL connection and might affect the printer's ability to send and receive faxes.

Please check the items below then rerun this test.

If you have a DSL/ADSL service through your telephone company, connect a DSL/ADSL filter between the telephone wall jack and the printer. The DSL filter removes the digital signal that can interfere with the printer, so the printer can communicate correctly with the phone line. For setup information, see the documentation provided with the printer.

NOTE: If you have a DSL/ADSL line and you do not connect the DSL/ADSL filter, you cannot send and receive faxes with the printer.

If you encounter problems, contact your local service provider or vendor for further assistance.

If you do not have a DSL/ADSL service, check the sound quality of the phone line by plugging a phone into the telephone wall jack and listening for static or other noise. For more information, contact your telephone company.

Note: Your printer might still be able to send and receive faxes, but at a slower speed.

If you do not have a DSL/ADSL service, check the sound quality of the phone line by plugging a phone into the telephone wall jack and listening for static or other noise. For more information, contact your telephone company.

If you are using a private branch exchange (PBX), you might be able to send and receive faxes successfully. If so, disregard the Fax Line Noise Test results on this page.

Refer to your User Guide for more information on the fax test and settings.
